THE STATE LOST.

Contrary to the expectations we have latterly indulged, the Democrats carried the State on Tuesday. Not Mr. WILLIAMS, but Mr. SHARSWOOD, is to fill a seat on the bench of the Supreme Court for the next fifteen years.

When the canvass opened the prospect of success by the Republicans looked dark enough. Not that any considerable number among them had recanted the principles they formerly professed; but that, against reason, they were inclined to regard the contest of minor importance, longed for exemption from agitation, and were indifferent and apathetic. As the canvass progressed, a better feeling seemed to prevail. Considerable activity sprang up afterwards, in certain circles of the party, and to such a degree as to indicate a probability of success. These manifestations, it is now evident, were deceptive. The activity was confined to a narrow range, while the indifference covered the whole organization as with a pall.

We know how useless it is to try to break the force of a defeat by explaining on what terms and how easily a victory might have been obtained. The masses do not stop to analyze details. They consider ends actually accomplished. It avails nothing with them to show that the aggregate vote was light; that a full poll would doubtless have cast the preponderance on the other side; and, consequently, that the result produced must be regarded as accidental rather than as real.

As we foresaw, the democrats are already pleading their victory as a popular condemnation of the congressional plan of reconstruction, and as an encouragement to the President to set up his will as superior to the laws. This does not comport at all with our understanding of the case. We are much rather disposed to say this defeat is owing to the remissness of Congress to follow up with boldness and decision the policy it had inaugurated. It was not true to itself; to its own doctrines; to the measures it had conceived and proposed.

This disaster lays additional burdens on the Republican party for the future. The State must be redeemed. Next year it must and will cast its electoral votes for the Republican candidates for President and Vice President.

The State Senate is Republican; the House, also. Beyond holding a majority in the Supreme Court, the Democrats have won a barren victory.

THE BESSEMER PROCESS.

A report recently published shows in its full light the success which the Bessemer process met with in the European iron markets. This process has been sold by the inventor to the different countries where the manufacture of steel seems to have more propensity for development, viz: the United States, France, England, Prussia, Austria, Italy, Belgium and Sweden. The number of converters now in operation is one hundred and fifteen, which, if they were fully employed, could produce 9,520 tons each week, or, in round numbers, 500,000 tons per annum. In England there are fifty two converters, which turn out weekly 6,000 tons. Prussia has twenty-two with a weekly capacity of 1,460 tons; France twelve with 890 tons; Austria fourteen with 650 tons; S weden has fifteen with a capacity of 530 tons. In Italy and Belgium there are three small establishments. The total Bessemer steel in 1866 was 212,500 tons, of which England turned out 150,000 tons, Prussia 25,000 tons, France 20,000 tons, Austria 10,000, and Sweden 7,500. We suppose by this return that the Bessemer process has a notable tendency to become the only process that will be used in the future.

The produce of steel by this process in 1867 will show a very large increase over the above figures, as converters are being rapidly put up in the different manufacturing countries, and to the European total there will be added a very handsome production in the United States.

PHILADELPHIA.

The immense loss which the Republican party sustained in Philadelphia is due as much to home pride as to home political troubles and dissensions on minor issues. The people of that section are deeply impressed with the idea that nothing good lives outside of their limits, and, while willing that the western portion of the State should supply needful majorities to elect candidates put forward by them, will not lend a hand towards helping aber and better men outside. The feeling among the Republicans here towards those in Philadelphia is anything but cordial, and were a candidate hailing from that portion of the State up for election to-morrow he would be made feel the indignation of the loyal masses of Allegheny county, who have always been faithful to the principles of the party. A new State west of the Alleghenies is wanted.

THE Convention of Christian Associations, in Cincinnati, had some discussion on the subject of amusement rooms. That in Cincinnati contains the materials for chess, croquet and checkers, and was approved. At Grand Rapids a gymnasium has done well in connection with the reading rooms. In Pittsburgh the amusement room had drawn in loose characters, and was closed.

HON. DAVID A. WELLS, Special Commissioner of Revenue, is now at the Monongahela House, and during to-day will be glad to meet the manufacturers of this city who may wish to confer with him in relation to the subject of tariff or internal revenue. He expects to leave the city this evening.

THE RETURNS thus far seem to indicate the election in Pennsylvania of Judge Sharswood, by a majority of several thousand. Twenty counties are yet to hear from, but we have no reason to longer hope for Mr. Williams' election.

The result of the Ohio election still remains in doubt. The Republicans lost heavily, and if Thurman is defeated it is by a beggarly majority.

IOWA has gone Republican, but the Democrats show large gains in the majority of districts.

—While Merritt Hurst was engaged in cutting corn in his field, near New Albany, (Ind.,) a man named Jacob Goodfred, or Gotfried, came into the field, when a difficulty ensued, resulting in the latter getting possession of Merritt's knife, with which he cut him a dreadful gash across the body, on the left side, almost severing him in two, and causing instant death. Goodfred gave himself up to the Sheriff, who took him to Corrydon, where he now is in jail.

—A boy in Auburn, Me., domesticated a turtle in a hogshead of water, feeding him and rendering him well acquainted with civilized life. Thinking after a few weeks that the turtle would relish freedom again, the lad carried him half a mile and put him in the river. The next day the turtle re-appeared in his old quarters in the hogshead.

ITALY.

ANOTHER PROCLAMATION FROM GARIBALDI—FURTHER OF THE INSURRECTION.

LONDON, October 8.—Garibaldi, from the Island of Caprera, has issued a second proclamation, couched in very violent words, against the Cabinet policy and personal action of Rattazzi. The General charges Rattazzi with being an enemy of Italian unity, and to some extent the tool of the church party and Napoleon. He urges the revolutionary force to go on and capture Rome.

The insurgents in the Pontifical province in Viterbo are daily increasing in numbers.

The Papal troops in the territory of Viterbo, reinforced by a detachment from Rome, have routed the Garibaldians at Bagnarea, and in small fights at some other points.

Nothing of a really serious character has yet occurred in the Pontifical territory. The fighting is confined to the unsettled operations of a few bands of Garibaldians. The insurgents lack leaders, and act more like bandits than patriots. They capture quarters and peaceable villages, levy contributions on the inhabitants, and commit outrages of different degrees of crime. They are, as a general thing, quickly driven out by the Papal Zouaves.

When the revolutionists retreat from towns the Roman peasants restore the Papal flag with demonstrations of joy.

The dispatches of the special correspondent of the Herald in Rome ridicule the reports of disaffection against the civil government of the Pope. The city remains quiet.

The London Times has an editorial which says the Roman question difficulty is nearly at an end.

ARREST OF GARIBALDI'S SON.

FLORENCE, October 9.—A report is in circulation that Menoti, son of Garibaldi, has been arrested by the Italian government. When last heard of Menoti Garibaldi was actively engaged in carrying out his father's plans for the invasion of the Roman Territory. With these plans he was well acquainted, full confidence having been reposed in him by the general. His arrest will be a severe blow to his followers, as, in the absence of Garibaldi, it deprives them of their most capable leader.

BAVARIA AND THE CONFEDERATION.

MUNICH, October 9.—At the sitting of the Bavarian Diet, yesterday, Prince Hohenlahe, chief Minister of the Cabinet, made a speech, in which he discussed the question of German unity, and indicated the position of the Government in relation to other States. He declared the true policy of Bavaria was to seek a union with the North German States, under the Presidency of the King of Prussia, and at the same time to take steps for the establishment of a firm and enduring alliance with the Empire of Austria. Should this policy be carried into effect the unity of the whole Fatherland could be completed, the balance of power between Austria and Prussia preserved, and the peace of Europe additionally guaranteed.

THE IOWA ELECTION.

The State Gone Republican.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CHICAGO, October 9.—Returns from Iowa are meagre, and not enough to give an approximate estimate of the majority for the Republican ticket. Returns from most of the counties along the Dubuque and Sioux City, and the Dubuque and Southwestern Railroads, give increased Democratic majorities.

ST. LOUIS.

The Fair—Large Attendance—Fine Weather—Premiums Taken—Habeas Corpus case.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, October 9.—The attendance at the Fair to-day was very large. A heavy rain last night laid the dust, and the weather to-day has been delightful.

In the contest of horse power threshers, H. C. Pitts & Sons, Chicago, took the first premium, and Case & Co., of Racine, Wis., the second.

The other competitors were Handsome & Co., Alton, Ill.; Kinnaland & Bro., Louisville; Russell & Co., Massillon, Ohio; E. Ball & Co., and C. Altman, Canton, Ohio; Sanger & Co., Joliet, Ill., and Garr & Co., Richmond, Ind. For steam equalizing governor, Allison & Nees, and Fairchild, Leavenworth, Kansas, took the first premium.

In the ring department, exhibitions for thorough bred bulls, premiums were taken by W. A. Duncan, of McLean county, Ill.; D. McMillan, Xenia, Ohio, J. H. Pickrell, Harristown, Ill., and H. Limgenfelder, Danville, Indiana. For thorough bred cows and heifers, J. H. Pickrell, Harristown, Ill.; Jacob Dennis, Xenia, Ohio, J. M. Bish, Harristown, Illinois, W. R. Duncan, McLean county, Ill., took prizes. For stallions of all work, premiums were taken by L. B. Dorsey, Jefferson county, Ky., Logan Bailey, Versailles, Ky., and Wm. Grigsby, Jersey county, Ill. For geldings of all work, J. G. Payne, Hanker Hill, Ill., and Ragan Bailey, Ky., took the first premiums.

To-morrow will be the great day of the fair. The Mayor of the city has proclaimed it a holiday and everything is expected to be on the ground. The principal attractions will be a race free to all trotters in a grand special purse—the first horse to get one thousand dollars; second, seven hundred dollars; third, three hundred dollars. There will also be several hundred premiums for roadster stallions, geldings and mares, and several private prizes for single horses and match teams.

So far the Fair is a grand success, and reminds one of the days before the war, when the Fairs of this Association attracted competition from all parts of the Union.

The United States Court yesterday granted Col. Adams corpus commanding the Warden of the Missouri Penitentiary to produce in Court, on Tuesday next, Wm. Murphy, who was sentenced by Military Commission to ten years' imprisonment, for boat burning on the Mississippi river during the war. The jurisdiction and power of a military tribunal to try a citizen for criminal offense will be the question on which will be predicated the discharge or remanding of the prisoner.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

The Lecture Season.

The Mercantile Library Association Lecture Committee announces in another column their course for the forthcoming season of 1867-8. Pioneers in the intelligent and praiseworthy business of supplying our communities with rich literary food, withstanding the encroachments of rival organizations, and yearly growing stronger, more genial and spirited, this Association merits the respect, esteem and hearty support of all who can appreciate the golden eloquence of a lecture, the broad thought and soaring fancy of a scholar, the wisdom of a statesman, the earnestness of a philanthropist, or the humor and brilliancy of an elocutionist. The course for the coming season is a good one, embracing the names of John B. Gough, Theodore Tilton, Dr. Holland, James E. Murdoch, Miss Dickinson, Henry Vincent, E. P. Whipple, and others.

The Committee have been in correspondence with the agent of Charles Dickens, and in case of his determination to appear before the Associations or public, the President of their ability to secure him. Season tickets will be issued 25th October. Price $5. Those who wish to avail themselves to secure tickets, application will be received in advance by the members of the Committee and by the Librarian, at the Association Rooms. In case of engagement of Mr. Dickens, the season tickets will be limited to a moderate additional charge for his lecture, owing to the great attendant expense. We believe no other literary association will engage in competition the coming season, leaving a clear field to the Mercantile Library Association.

A Handsome Compliment.

One of our eminent speakers, who labored assiduously for the Republican cause in the canvas just ended, it appears on one occasion got beyond his ballywick and spoke to our friends in Somerset. The Herald of that town notices him in the following pleasant way:

Hon. Thomas Howard at the Republican meeting on Tuesday night of last week, was able, argumentative, logical, and eloquent, and has been much commended by those who had the pleasure of hearing him. The speeches made by Mr. Howard in this county, during the campaign of 1856, are remembered with pleasure by all who participated in that memorable campa

THE AMERICAN PEOPLE.

If any one fact has been fully proved about the American people, it is that they are impatiently progressive. The man or party who would lead them must move or swing round the circle or go back. They will endure anything rather than inactivity. They ask no rest, and will not be kept still. Let the path on which they are lead to right or wrong, to triumph or disaster, they must keep in motion. Let a conductor run a train on to a switch, wait half an hour, and then inform his passengers that they must either wait two hours longer or run the risk of collision with a train going in the opposite direction before reaching the next turn out, and the probability is that they will vote three to one to go on and take the risk. The chances in "going ahead" are ever preferred, by them, to the assurances of sitting still, and if hindered from going on the right road they will go on the wrong.

This peculiarity was abundantly illustrated in their conduct of the war. When the reverberation of the Sumter guns echoed over the land, they rose, like a mountain torrent, to rush down and overwhelm rebellion. How easily, then, could the party in power have swept the rebellion into the Gulf of Mexico, without giving the rebels time to build a redoubt or plant an abattis. But the party in power was not a party of motion. With its honored and chosen representative it planted itself across the channel of this torrent, built a dam, and made a little gate through which patriotism was permitted to dribble out its waters at such a rate that they were absorbed by the arid sands of treason as they flowed. When Gen. FREMONT opened a sluice-way, there was a renewed rush. But Kentucky was thrust into the aperture, and the surging billows swayed and circled, then swept through crevices, and turned away into the dismal swamp of discussion about the constitutional rights of traitors in arms to destroy the Constitution. Here they stagnated, and made a hatching ground for noisome reptiles not a few, and filled the air with pestilential vapors which have poisoned the life of the nation with a bewildering doubt of the relative merits of loyalty and treason.

When FREMONT's proclamation was issued the people of the North hailed it with a general acclaim. But three prominent papers, and one of these the Missouri Republican, entered any protest, but we waited for Kentucky. She was behind and with a little petting and coaxing would join the rank and file of loyal States. To-day the Union cause feels the effect of this miserable mistake, this halting between two opinions. The people never again reached the point of enthusiasm which was damped and turned aside by our receding from that advance step. They were law abiding. They wished to save their Government constitutionally. Loyal presses set earnestly to work, many of them in opposition to the private judgment of their conductors, to convince the people that Mr. LINCOLN's policy was best, and, at all events, that it was constitutional, and that it was the imperative duty of all to sustain him. We did sustain him, but the occasion gave rise to so many arguments against emancipation, as a necessary result of rebellion, that it cost us the lives of tens of thousands to bring a majority of the people up to the point from which they had been turned back, while hundreds of thousands, troubled by the disasters thus ensured, came to denounce the war, and oppose every measure for carrying it on.

When we had been whipped into the measures necessary to whip the rebels, and had whipped them, they themselves were ready to accept life on any terms, and the loyal people were ready for total disfranchisement of every rebel, for life, and for the hanging of all the leaders. Nay they were not only ready, but demanded these measures. After Mr. LINCOLN's death they clamorously called for vengeance and to have treason made forever odious. Their impatience was scarcely restrained, by Mr. JOHNSON's promises, until Congress met. With what hope and joy their meeting was hailed! Then, the people confidently expected prompt action. Treason was to be made odious; traitors were to be punished; and the fruits of our war were to be gathered. To this just expectation Congress responded by halting, hesitating, blocking up and damning back the popular enthusiasm. Congress would not go forward. The people have wearied of waiting for them to punish the murderers of our prisoners of war; for them to remove the traitor who disgraces our Presidential chair; and has stultified himself by making treason honorable and profitable. Congress would not move, except at a snail's pace. The people are tired of having the train of progress sitting on a switch, awaiting the antics of ANDREW JOHNSON, and have voted to go ahead and risk a smash up, by coming in collision with the revolution threatened by a reorganized rebellion.

FRIGHTFUL DEATH OF THREE CHILDREN.

A widow, Mrs. Blankenship, living near Bowling Green, Ky., went to a run to wash, taking with her her entire family, two little sons and a baby daughter, followed by their dog. The dog ran off a short distance into the woods, and began barking furiously. It was thought he had treed some game, and with the mother's consent, the little fellows went to secure it. The game proved to be a large rattlesnake. They were too small to know the nature of the creature, and delighted by its glittering coils, the eldest ran to catch the prize, saying, "I'll get him, brother." The venomous reptile darted, and struck its venomous fangs again and again into the flesh of the glowing, eager child, and wound its terrible folds about him. The younger brother ran to his rescue, and was also repeatedly bitten. Their screams brought the mother. When she arrived the eldest boy was dead, and the younger one lived but long enough to tell what had happened. The snake had crawled off, and alone in the woods, with the backened and swollen corpses of her two darlings, the mother, for a time, forgot her infant down by the run. Returning to her she found the corpse of her baby girl in the wash tub. She had toddled to it and fallen in head foremost. Who found her, or how she found assistance to bring to her desolate home all that was left of her children is not told, but the Bowling Green Democrat, which gives the account, says the poor mother is not quite bereft of reason, and that the event has created a profound sympathy in the whole community.

AN IMPORTANT CASE has been decided by the United States District Court of Northern Georgia, confirming the purchase of an estate for Confederate money. Dean sold his estate to Youett in 1864 for $24,000 Confederate money, and afterward tried to annul the sale on account of the nature of the consideration, but failed. Judge Erskine dismissed the bill and sustained the purchase. The Cincinnati Gazette says: "This case has excited a great deal of interest, and is, perhaps, the most important one to the Southern people decided since the close of the war."

THE Wesleyan Conference, at its recent session in Cleveland, after a spicy debate, adopted a report in favor of woman suffrage. Rev. Dr. Baker, of New York, said, "Too long have I placed woman in the list of colored men and idiots. One of the best Judges in Israel was a woman, and in the days of the Apostles there were deaconesses."

In theory all the Aldermen of the city who have filled the office of Sheriff are eligible, but the custom is to select for Lord Mayor the Alderman next in official seniority to the actual incumbent. This saves an immense amount of trouble.

—The Canadian Parliament, which is to assemble in November, is to charter, as soon as possible, a railroad to connect Halifax with the St. Lawrence river, and to provide for the construction and completion of the road with all practical speed. This duty is inculcated in the act of the British Parliament which created the Dominion of Canada.

In France the annual rate is 110 per million of the population,; in Belgium, 45; Italy, 30; and Spain 15.

—The adulteration of tea by the Chinese before it is shipped is complained of in foreign papers. It is said to be the custom of the Chinese to mix with their spring grown tea the old and withered leaves of the previous season's yield, and this has been carried on to so great an extent that the ripeness and richness of the flavor of the tea are destroyed, and the price in China is greatly depressed.

—A shipmaster, whose vessel carried a cargo of cotton recently from New Orleans to Liverpool, exhibited in the latter city a box of lucifer matches, which was accidentally discovered in a bale of cotton which was being placed on the vessel at New Orleans. Whether the matches were placed in the bale by accident or design, is not known, but it is said that this is not the first time such a discovery has been made.

—The Athens, (Tenn.,) Republican says that two men in that vicinity built a fire around a cow that they were attempting to drive, in order to force her to get up, and the poor animal died under the torture. A day or two after this occurrence one of these men had occasion to pass by the scene of his cruelty, when his horse became frightened at the dead cow, threw his rider, breaking his arm and seriously injuring him otherwise.

—Australia is progressing in wealth, and the trade of that region is rapidly growing. In 1865 the imports in the Australian colonies reached $175,000,000 and the exports $150,000,000. Within the last sixteen years, New South Wales and Victoria yielded $750,000,000 worth of gold, and New South Wales has produced 5,000,000 tons of coal. South Australia has also, within the last ten years, exported $25,000,000 worth of copper.

—A proposed railway consolidation of importance is mentioned in the New York Commercial Advertiser. That journal says the plan is to consolidate the New Jersey Central, Camden and Amboy, and Pennsylvania Central railroads, with Western connections and the Pacific Railroad, so that by 1870, three years from the present time, passengers can take the carsat Jersey City, and go through without change to San Francisco. The undertaking is certainly one of great magnitude.

—The population of the earth is estimated by a German statist at 1,350,000,000, of whom 285,000,000 are in Europe, 796,600,000 in Asia, 3,850,000 in Australia and Polynesia, 188,000 in Africa, and 74,500,000 in America. This estimate, it is acknowledged, is only an approximation; for the statist admits that it is impossible to arrive at anything like an accurate statement of the population of Asia and Africa, there being no census or other means of ascertaining the numbered inhabitants in those portions of the globe.

—The Peoria (Ill.) Transcript says: A single mud puddle has cost the city of Peoria $6,000, and if the attorney's fees, and bother of following a suit up to the Supreme Court and back be added, it will amount to at least a thousand more. Seven thousand dollars for a mud-puddle! How's that for high? Everybody knows that the Nevins suit, that has dragged along for years here; how the city reconstructed its streets, and left a large mud-puddle before the door of Dr. Nevins' Water Cure establishment; how the patients left his institution, owing, he said, to the aforesaid mud-puddle. Hence the suit.

—The defaulting cashier of the First National Bank in New Milford, Conn., was a deacon of the church, and town treasurer, altogether a very respectable man. He stole from the bank and from the town $56,000, but was advised and allowed to make his escape, after turning over his property, about $15,000, to partially cover his thefts. The Hartford Courant gets indignant and says: "There has not been a 'respectable man' sent to the Penitentiary these fifteen years, though there have been a dozen cases of gross frauds, theft, and defalcations, to the damage of our banks and insurance companies, and several cases of forgery, by men who stood high in the community and in some cases in the church."

—Sir Morton Peto has been re-elected Vice President of a Bible Union, which is probably inexpressibly gratifying to his creditors.

—Elias Howe, Jr., was "cured" by a clairvoyant, but imprudently caught cold and brought on a new and fatal attack of his disease.

—Miss Pattie Dahlgren, a sister of Admiral Dahlgren, is soon to be married to a New York gentleman named Reed, who has an income of $80,000 per annum.

—Lord Brougham has just passed his birthday—but whether in his eighty-eighth or his eighty-ninth he himself does not know. He still retains all his mental powers.

Female Clerks.

The editor of the Albany Knickerbocker is in Europe, and sends the following account of the general employment of females:

The women, by the way, do nearly all the trading in Ireland. At our hotel a woman shows you to your room, you pay your bill to a woman, and you are politely bowed out of the house by the housekeeper. It is rare to find a retail store in Cork where a female is not seen behind the counter. We are told that the same thing prevails throughout all the British provinces. The reason given for employing them is that their follies are not only less numerous, but much lower priced. Females may sport fifty dollar mantles, but they never go on fifty dollar "busts." Females never spend a whole week's wages on billiard balls. Girls never "put the party through," kick up a row and get dragged to the station house. Fast horses they avoid, and roulette tables and game cocks. We never saw a female hanging round a gambling table, or betting her last fifty dollars that she can tell where the "little joker" is? Who ever saw a female clerk, after the store was shut, rambling up Broadway, "raising thunder," and breaking things? Who ever saw a respectable girl knocking over dry goods boxes and standing "M. P.'s" on their heads? No one; and yet respectable young men do these things nightly. When was a female clerk ever arrested for having a "suspicious character" locked up in the store with her after midnight? In view of all these facts, is it any wonder that the merchants on this side run to female clerks?

London at Night.

A writer in Tinsley's Magazine, for September, gives the following description of the view of London he obtained by a balloon ascent at night:

"London, in its mass and magnitude, in the whole of its metropolitan grandeur, is to be seen only from the air. I have floated slowly over it as the evening closed in, and watched, for instance, the lighting of the lamps. Nothing romantic in that? No; nothing particularly striking, if you only survey your individual lamplighter from your window. But it is a different thing when the subtle flame hurries along, visible in its glittering coils for miles of streets, and clasping the whole city in its folds like a serpent of fire. In the parks and on the bridges, on square and street, out in the building wilderness that circle London, you see the lights awaking. Lazily, I remember, we floated that night over the city, with scarcely a breath of air to move the balloon; and then, tiring of the dead calm, we tried for a breeze by going up through the clouds. It was long, even then, before we moved very briskly; but when we dropped a little to reconnoitre, behold, London! We were obviously a few miles away from it; but there it was; and as, earlier, it had been the busy rush running from street to street, so now, all united in one mighty glare, the whole light of the wonderful city burst upon eyes that had been peering a moment before through the gray folds of its cloud canopy.

Pneumatic Conveyance.

The success of the last pneumatic undertaking in London, by which the mails and small parcels are shot from point to point with great rapidity and at little cost, has induced the people of New York to consider the expediency of adopting it. A company has, however, been formed in New Jersey, which is about to create an experimental line between Newark and Jersey City, and so anticipate the Gothamites. Their plan contemplates a wooden tube three feet in diameter, either elevated or resting on the ground, through which cars will be driven at the rate of one hundred miles an hour, under an American patent. The tube will cost about $10,000 per mile. Should the undertaking work as well in this country as it does in Europe, and accomplish the expectations of its promoters, it may very well be that the invention will be applied in other cities and extended to other uses, so that compressed air will come to be a rival agent to steam and heat and water power. We can see many advantages, should the theory prove practically advantageous and feasible.

A PARIS STORY is that of the bridegroom that was to be, and who, having been shown some of his future spouse's trousseau, asked how the long, white, heavy skirts in such piles were to be disposed of.

"They are petticoats," answered the mother; "Alice puts on four of these every day."

"Upon my word," exclaimed Alice's betrothed; "but where's the crinolines?"

"Who wears crinolines now?" asked the tender parent, with disdain.

"And what is the cost of one of these frilled monuments?"

"From fifty to eighty francs, edged with lace."

"And the washing?"

"Five francs."

"Please give my kind love to Miss Alice, and say I can not afford to keep a wife without a crinoline."

INVISIBLE POISONS.

The Medicis and the Borgias fortified their systems with powerful antidotes against the subtle poisons with which they used to destroy their enemies, and which they feared might one day be employed against themselves. There are terrible poisons, almost as deadly, against which few of our readers have any safeguards. These banes are in the air. When the atmosphere is surcharged with them, as it sometimes is at this season, epidemic fevers ensue. The summer which has just closed has been a most remarkable one. The amount of rain that has fallen has been enormous, and the exhalations from the earth have been, and are, of the most appalling almost beyond example. These exhalations exert their baneful influence on the vital powers, and predispose the system to diseases which, in people are constantly of unsound health, are liable and unpredictable. These symptoms are generally forerunners of an epidemic (bilious attack—before they have become anything worse—with HOSTETTER'S BITTERS, the most effective antidote to malaria that the vegetable kingdom has ever yielded. This protection is three-fold—invigorating, depurative and anti-bilious. For fevers, any lingering malaria in the slightest degree defies medicine to health, and counteracting the juices and extracts of the rarest medicinal herbs, it is unanimously approved, as a defensive preparation to any other tonic, herbal or bitter, as one essential need in medical practice. A course of HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS, practically speaking, a perfect safeguard against intermittent and remittent fevers.

BLIND EYES RESTORED.

The case to which we alluded some weeks ago, of Christiana Fisher, of Beaver county, is now entirely confirmed by the appearance of Miss Fisher herself, who to-day called on DR. KEYSER in person, to thank him for his genius and skill in restoring her TO ENTIRE AND PERFECT SIGHT. Miss Fisher was so blind that she could not distinguish any object so as to make out what it was. The case is remarkable, as hundreds of cases like hers are doomed to never-ending darkness, on the fancy that there is no cure, and nothing can be done. She was under DOCTOR KEYSER'S treatment for two months, and before she applied to him through her brother, Simon P. Fisher, slight hopes were entertained of her ever getting her sight. Her case is well known in the neighborhood where she resides, and has been regarded as one of extraordinary recovery.

We, the undersigned, know of the cure of Miss Fisher, and bear willing testimony to the facts above stated.

OFFICE OF THE AKRON IRON CO.,
AKRON, July 12th, 1867.

Mr. Lold. C. Totten, Pittsburgh, Pa.—Dear Sir: We have had a pair of your patent grooved chill rolls in our use for the last six months, and find them of a superior quality. The Iron finished on them is of a smooth, even surface, and free from seams, and I consider them in all respects of great advantage, making better iron and of less expense, in consequence of requiring less dressing.

BENJ. GREVENOR, Sup't.

PITTSBURGH STEEL WORKS,
ANDERSON, COOK & CO., Manufacturers of all Descriptions of Steel,
Corner of Ross and First streets,
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 7, 1867.

Mr. Robt. C. Totten—Dear Sir:—The grooved chilled rolls which we procured from you about a year since have proved to be a perfect success. There is a great saving in dressing over soft Rolls, and give a much better finish to the Steel. We consider them indispensable.

Your Ob't,
ANDERSON, COOK & CO.

BLACK DIAMOND STEEL WORKS,
ANDERSON, COOK & CO.,
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 18, 1867.

Mr. Robt. C. Totten, Pittsburgh—Dear Sir:—In reply to your inquiry in relation to your new pattern grooved Chill Rolls, we beg to say that having used a number of them, we find they answer our purpose admirably. We are now using a pair of 16-inch grooved Chill Rolls, the last pair you made for us. These Rolls are used for finishing large rounds, and can in no wise be beat such a finish up on our Steel as could not be had with the use of the ordinary grooved Rolls. We say as having tried both grooved and plain Chill Rolls, we have to say that the advantage gained with the grooved Rolls in the whole surface of the groove is uniformly hard, requiring not one-half the work that is usually necessary in dressing the ordinary grooved Rolls. We believe you have gained a great point in producing a perfect Roll, and we take pleasure in recommending the same to the manufacturers of Steel and Iron generally, in the hope to produce an article of a good finished surface.

We take pleasure in recommending manufacturers of steel and iron to give your grooved Chill Rolls a trial. Respectfully yours,

ANDERSON, COOK & CO.

We think we are warranted in believing that they will eventually take the place of Soft Rolls, especially for Rounds and Squares.

THE COURTS.

Court of Quarter Sessions.

Before Judge Stowe.

ACQUITTED.

Howell Douglass was tried on an indictment for larceny. The jury acquitted without leaving the box.

LARCENY OF A COW.

John Neles was tried for the larceny of a cow on the 8th of September, from John Stump, residing in Pitt township. After the case for the Commonwealth had been presented, the prisoner put in a plea of guilty, and by reason of his youth, (eighteen years,) he was sentenced to the House of Refuge. The prisoner said his parents reside in Hannastown, Butler county.

AGGRAVATED ASSAULT AND BATTERY.

For this offence William Minneger was placed on trial. John Shellaby was the prosecutor. On the night of the 24th of July last the prosecutor was playing a game of cards in King's Saloon, in the Third Ward, Allegheny; defendant came in and said he could whip "any d— s— of b— in the house;" Shellaby said that was an ugly name to call a man; defendant then showed fight, bantering Shellaby; defendant went out, but soon returned and renewed the quarrel, Shellaby, however, refusing to have anything to do with him. After finishing the game Shellaby started home, and while standing at the corner of First and West streets, was struck on the forehead with a stone, thrown by the defendant. Verdict guilty.

The Hackmen.

City Councils have been year after year passing ordinances to prevent the hackmen from taking advantage of the necessities of strangers and others, who are so unfortunate as to require their services, by charging extortionate rates for conveying them to different parts of the city. Yet the evil prevails today to as great an extent as it ever did, and will continue to do so until such time as the authorities take the proper steps to enforce the laws enacted by Councils. The majority of the ordinances, if not all, that have been passed in regard to the matter, are nothing more than a dead letter. This should not be the case. If it is not the intention to enforce the ordinances passed by Councils, they might as well stop legislating for the city, and turn their attention to something else. A few weeks since an ordinance was passed and published in the city papers, prohibiting hackmen from charging more than fifty cents for each passenger, and twenty-five cents for each trunk, conveyed to any point within the present city limits, and to extend the parties imposed upon to have the offender arrested, it required the hackman to have the number of his hack painted in a conspicuous place on the vehicle. This ordinance might have been improved by requiring each driver to have a bill of prices posted on the inside of his hack, so that passengers could see for themselves the rates they were required to pay; but it would prevent a great deal of imposition as it is if properly enforced. The hackmen no doubt all have their numbers, as they are subject to a fine for doing business without them, but who ever saw a number on a hack in Pittsburgh!

The hackmen are quite ingenious in the management of their affairs, and never let an opportunity of fleecing strangers pass by unimproved. We observed a transaction yesterday, by which a gentleman was taken in and for the information of those concerned we give it as it occurred.

A gentleman and lady arrived at the Union Depot having a medium sized trunk with them, which was seized by a hackman as soon as it came out of the baggage car. When the gentleman claimed the trunk, "Jacky" asked him where he wished it taken, and was informed that he wished to go to the Connellsville Depot, and desired a carriage for himself, lady and the trunk. The hackman at once went to take the party's trunk and all, for one dollar and fifty cents, which the stranger agreed to pay. They were shown to a carriage, and the trunk put on the box, and when alighting at the depot, the driver, who was not the one with whom the agreement was made, demanded two dollars for the job. The gentleman protested, stating the agreement he had made, to which the driver replied that he had nothing to do with the fellow with whom it was made; but he finally paid it and "Jacky" went off mutteringly over his success. Such things are an every day occurrence, and should be looked into. It is not only the duty of the city authorities to protect the citizens, but travelers and strangers who have to pass through the city are equally entitled to protection at their hands, and it is to the interest of the city that they should have it.

Meeting of Lawrenceville Councils.

The regular meeting of the Councils of the borough of Lawrenceville was held in their Chamber on Monday evening, October 7th, 1867. Present—Messrs. Hart, Watson, Sill, Weisenberger, Meanor and Burger.

The President being absent, Joseph Hart, Esq., was called to the Chair pro tempore.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and unanimously approved.

Wm. Jancey, Esq., Treasurer of the Borough, then offered his official report, which exhibited the following facts:

Indebtedness of the borough of Lawrenceville to Oct. 6, 1867.....$46,419 25
Assets.....25,337 19

Liabilities.....$21,093 06

On motion of Mr. Watson, the report was accepted and adopted.

The following bills for work done for the borough, and salaries for officers, were read and warrants ordered to be drawn for the respective amounts: James Duane, $103 53; James Duane, $47 75; Conrad Koch, $481 57; James L. Irwin, $60 00; M. J. McCann, $60 00; William Reardon, $450 00; Wartzell & Co., $76 85; George Fritchley, $50 00; Barr & Myers, $5 00.

A bill of J. P. Barr & Co. for advertising in the Morning Post was referred back to the Committee for a reduction in price.

The following estimate bills were read, approved and warrants ordered to be drawn for the respective amounts: Barr, Knake & Scanlon, $269 80; McGilvray & Co., $1,236 42; K. Bracken, $1,185 53; K. Bracken, $3,261 91; K. Bracken, $1,066 20; K. Bracken, $2,230 72; K. Bracken, $658 14; James Duane, $1,120 23; K. Bracken, $249 00.

On motion, adjourned.

In concluding our report of the proceedings of Councils, we cannot help but pay a passing tribute of financial respect to the members of that body for the very full and able—we may say unusually intelligent—report of the state or condition of the finances and indebtedness of the borough. For some time past there has been a number of croakers in the village (as it was termed in our boyhood) about the extravagence (!) of the Councils. The above figures in the Treasurer's report are certainly plain enough for the most obtuse mind, and indicate vividly that the present economical Councils, only $21,093 06, count (if absolutely necessary) as debt. A few moments notice, by a large number of property holders individually, in the borough, without feeling the loss of the amount.

MALICIOUS MISCHIEF.

Thomas Flinn appeared before Alderman McMasters, yesterday, and made information against J. P. Leonard, charging him with malicious mischief. He alleges that the accused threw five stones through the windows and doors of his house, breaking the windows and bursting the door open. The parties reside at Soho. A warrant was issued for the arrest of Leonard.

PERJURY.

John Oliver was charged with perjury on oath of J. McMillan, before Alderman McMasters, yesterday. It appears that Oliver made information against McMillan for surety of the peace, alleging that he threatened to strike him with a pick. The prosecutor alleged false, and hence the information for perjury. Oliver was arrested and held for a hearing.

ADULTERY.

Julia Scahill made information yesterday against Isabella Scahill, before Alderman Butler, charging her with adultery. The defendant was arrested, and after hearing was committed to jail in default of bail, for her appearance at court.

SEDUCTION.

Mary Gust made information before Alderman Nicholson yesterday against Lovington Lane, charging him with seduction. The defendant was arrested, and after a hearing, was, in default of the required bail, committed to answer at court.

ASSAULT AND BATTERY.

John McCaffrey appeared before Justice Barker, of South Pittsburgh, against Thos. Daggett, charging him with assault and battery. The defendant was arrested and committed to jail for a hearing.

In Memoriam.

At a meeting of the pupils of Professor Bogle's English and Classical School, held October 7th, 1867, the following preamble and resolutions were adopted in memory of our friend and school mate, Wm. Spencer, who died, after a brief illness, on October 4th, 1867:

WHEREAS, It has pleased God, in His all-wise providence to remove from among us our loved friend and school mate, William Spencer, whose kind and generous disposition has endeared him to teachers and pupils, and whose death has cast a shade of gloom over our school; therefore,

Resolved, That though there has been leave taking, sorrow and heart breaking, and a pale echo-making of the gone, forever gone; still we recognize in this mysterious providence the hand of our Heavenly Father, who "doeth all things well."

2. That we will fondly cherish his memory and strive to imitate him in his many acts of kindness and noble virtues.

3. That we sincerely sympathize with the bereaved parents and relatives in the loss they have sustained, in this severing of the dear band, bound together by the most sacred ties; but we hope it will be to them only another link in the chain which connects the creature with the Creator, that shall draw imperceptibly upward the dear ones left behind.

4. That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the afflicted parents of the deceased, and, also, that they be published in the city papers.

PRESSLEY JONES,
HARRY IRWIN,
ELLA CLARK. } Committee.

Captias Case.—William O'Neil was arrested on a capias, issued out of the District Court, at the instance of M. O'Connor, to answer a plea of trespass on the case, on a charge of false imprisonment, and in default of bail was committed to jail yesterday.

Heavy Penalty.—Deputy Mayor Owston, yesterday morning, imposed a fine of five hundred dollars on Charles O'Mara, who was charged, on oath of Felix T. Egger, with having erected a frame building within the limits of the city, in violation of a city ordinance prohibiting the same. The defendant has taken an appeal, and the matter will be brought before the Court.

Pocket Picking.—James F. Moran was committed to jail for trial yesterday, by Mayor McCarthy, charged with picking the pocket of William Davis, of the Fifth ward, of twenty dollars, on Tuesday evening.

Gold opened at 145, but gradually, and against all expectation, declined to 143¾. All kind of sensation rumors were put in circulation to influence the gold and stock markets; but stocks remain firm, and have rather an advancing tendency.

Bonds were rather weak, and Ten Forties declined from 101¾ to 100⅝. Seven Thirties are dull and lower; also, Five Twenties of 1862.

Mining shares are unchanged.

Closing New York quotations received by Ph. R. Mertz, were as follows:

—The prices of grain and flour hold up surprisingly, notwithstanding the reports show that the quantity of grain received at the lake ports for the month of September was about double that of the corresponding period of last year. And to move this excess of produce to the seaboard it is said that New York alone has furnished and sent forward over twenty-three millions of dollars! This latter fact may be true, for we see and feel a great stringency in the money market; but this being admitted, why do we not have the evidence of the abundant receipts at the lake ports in corresponding reduction in the price of breadstuffs?—Phila. Ledger.

—In speaking of express stocks, the New York Tribune, of the 8th inst., says:

"Express stocks continue unsettled, Adams' falling suddenly to 58 from 63½ yesterday. The current advance in the money market leads the market, was the result of an effort to strengthen prices to sell the shares of the other express companies, which are damaged in the Merchants's Union. There is nothing in the express war to make their stocks desirable at present. Assessments on the new stock are said to be called for from companies in immediate competition with the Merchants's Union.

—The Philadelphia Press says: The quantity of grain received at the lake ports for the month of September was about double that of the corresponding period of last year. The enormous receipts of breadstuffs from the country about equal to the shipments. This is the first instance of a return flow this season, there was a fair demand for currency against sight bills on cargoes, and these were generally credited up at ½ discount. The market may be quoted comfortably closed, though the tone was easier than on Saturday, as the quarterly statements were all made up on early hour this morning. The government was checking to a moderate extent on some of the depository banks.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, October 9, 1867.

CRUDE—The crude market is firm, with considerable inquiry for spot oil, while the demand for future delivery is very light. We can report a sale of 1500 bbls, in tank, on spot, at 16c, and 115 bbls at 14c, bbls returned. Spot Oil is firm at 14c, and as the stock is being rapidly reduced, and the supply in the hands of dealers and speculators will soon be exhausted, holders are very stiff, and refuse to make concessions in order to effect sales. For all 1867, seller's option, quotations may be fairly given at 12@12½c; while for first water, we believe, that some 2000 bbls is still on the market at 12c.

REFINED—The market for bonded oil is very firm, and while there is but comparatively little doing, prices are very stiff and tending upward. The advices from Antwerp quote at 62@63 for spot oil, and 60 for future deliveries, which is the highest point reached this season. The following sales were reported: 1000 bbls for all October, buyer's option, at 37c; 500 at 37c; 500 at 35c; and 1000, 600 each for October and November, at 36c. There is one point which is overlooked somewhat, there is but little oil here to sell and, as a general thing, our refiners are not disposed to make any new contracts for future deliveries, even at present prices, as they have not crude enough hardly to fill their old contracts.
